

Innovam was founded in 1948 by Dutch branch organization BOVAG. For over 60 years, we have been the main provider of both technical and non-technical after-sales, sales & management, product launch training and educational programs in the Dutch automotive sector. Innovam operates in both the vocational education field as in the re-training of already skilled mechanics.

We are also the main certification institute for the Dutch government in the automotive sector and carry out governmental tasks and educational projects for several ministries, including accreditation and assessment/quality guarantees for companies, the development of a qualification structure and the education and certification of car safety assessors (MOT inspectors) and driving instructors.
